BRAVES POWERS AND SENDS WARSHIPS INTO WATERS LONG PORBIDDEN.

LONDON, April 18.-Italian warships have begun the bombardment along the Dardanelles Strait. One warthip is damaged.

ROME, April 2 .- In the best-informed circles here the impression prevails today that the Italian fleet is on the eve of the vigorous naval action which for some time has been strongly demanded by the press and public opinion, and which was only delayed by the advances made by the Powers at Bome and at Constantinople with a view of ending the war. Since last night there has been an active and continuous exchange of cipher telegrams between the ministers of war, General Caneva and Admiral Faravelli,

This exchange of telegrams is said by usually well-informed persons to relate to the simultaneous action of General Caneva's army in Tripoli and Cyremaion and of Admiral Faravelli's fleet against the Turkish coasts of the Mediterranean and the Aegean Sea. Dispatches from the military posts tend to confirm the imminence of fresh naval operations in Turkish seas.

In some military circles it is openly said that an attack by Italian warships on the Dardanelles is not at all im-probable and that it would not cause surprise should it come in the next few days. It is known that for the last 48 hours the submarines of the Italian navy have been kept under pressure to be ready to sail at the first word neceived from here. They are in the harbor of Brindisi, on the Adriatic Sea, while the two squadrons of battleships are cruising off the harbors of Taranto and Augusta, the two bases of operations of the Italian navy during the present war.

Today the Ambassadors of France Germany, Great Britain and Austria again visited the Italian minister of foreign affairs, Marquis Di San Giuliuno, and remained with him for nearterpreted in some circles as a proof of a disagreement between the Russian government and the other Powers over the peace pourparlers, the former advocating a more energetic action at Constantinople to force Turkey to accent Italy's terms.

(Continued from Page One.) though I suppose the thermometer did not sink very much below the freezing point, but the water felt warm after being in the air.

CAPTAIN ON THE BRIDGE

"As I looked I could see the figure of the captain on the bridge. They tell me that he and the chief engineer committed suicide by shooting themselves through the head before the vessels upend, but I do not believe this. If ever there was a braver set of officers and men than the Titanic carried I have never heard of them.

"On the after deck there were hundreds of people, clumped into small groups that clustered for a moment in the lights, and they fell screaming and shricking into the sea. They were clad in scanty clothing, and the white gowns of the women, but a few moments waked from sleep, flashed as they swept down to the water.

THEN SHE SANK.

Then she sank, sliding down the long incline, out of sight. There was a horrid, swirl that caught our raft and spun us round and round, until the women screamed again, and, except for the stronger swimmers around us, we were alone with the few other boats. For a while we busied ourselves aiding those we saw or heard in the water, but the cries finally died away and we were in silence as well as darkness,

IN EVENING DRESS,

"We all knew that our wireless call for help had been answered and that NAME OF STOCK CAPITAL PAR several steamers were on their way to aid us, but down there in that black awful night, with the white ridged waves racing by under our overloaded raf the prospect of ever coming through the night, was gloomy. And we were i a bad shape. I was in evening dress and so were most of the women on th raft with me. They were nearly frozen.

DIED FROM EXPOSURE.

"To make things worse the wind began to rise, driving the seas of spra over us and drenching every one to the bone. We were better off than those in the boats, for the constant incoming of the water kept them bailing, wherea our raft floated, buoyantly. But it was frightful. Pretty soon, I heard on of the few men in a nearby boat, we tried to keep as close together as possible and managed fairly well, yell out that a woman was dead. He was askin instructions from another officer, a superior, as to what to do with the body The reply was to keep it.

"The women on the raft, for the most part were brave and calm, but son of them proved hysterical and gave a lot of trouble. I heard this was the san with the other rafts and boats,"

SUICIDE DISBELIEVED.

The report that the captain and chief engineer had killed themselves disbelieved here, although several of the survivors concur in the statement that the reports of pistols were heard just before the steamer sank. Officia of the company say this might have been the giving of the doors within the sh as the water pressure reached them,

THE PROMINENT DEAD.

The list of the prominent men missing is not changed in any respect by the arrival of the Carpathia. Among them are Col. John Jacob Astor, Maj. Arch hald Butt, military aid to the President, on his way home after a special prese tation to King Emmanuel of Italy; William T. Stead, the journalist; Iside Straus, the merchant and pilanthropist of this city, and his wife; Georg Widener, son of P. A. Widener of Philadelphia, traction king of the Pennsy vania city; President J. B. Thayer of the Pennsylvania railroad, and other The titanic carried 2340 persons as passengers and crew.

CONGRESS TO ACT.

Dispatches from Washington announce that the senate committee has succeeded in obtaining the promise of J. Bruce Ismay, chairman of the Whi Star line's board of directors, to have the four surviving officers of the Titan attend the inquiry that the body is to hold tomorrow. Mr. Ismay will also called as a witness, as well as a number of survivors.

A fund for the relief of those among the passengers who may be in ne of assistance has already reached the $50,000 mark and is growing rapidly.

NO WORK TO BE HAD

The Italian immigration office of New York publishes the following, received

"Many persons have been induced to believe that on account of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, which will occur in 1915, there will be labor for everybody, and many have come to San Urancisco without knowing that the work on the exposition has not yet commenced, and will not commence for a year to come. The royal consul-general of Italy, there-fore, disadvises laborers from going to San Francisco until they known from responsible sources that there is actual demand for labor in that city. In San Francisco at the present time are near-ly 30,000 people without employment; there are about 15,000 in Los Angeles and 10,000 in San Diego."

STOMACH TROUBLE OFTEN LEADS TO FEAR OF MANY OTHER DISEASES.

If your digestion is out of order you may have symptoms that will mislead you into thinking you have heart disease, kidney trouble, some nervous or blood disorder. Better look to the stomach first. It is here that the blood gets its nourishment. If the digestion is disordered, the blood will be out of order. Poor digestion fills the blood with poisons. This impure blood poisons every tissue of the body. The dyspeptic awakes in the morning with a dull, heavy head and is irritable, mel-ancholy, and dizzy because the brain, nerves and muscles have been poisoned from the stomach.

Mrs. John Knuth, of R. F. D. No. 2

St. Joseph, Mo., makes the following statement: 'I was an invalid with stomach trouble for seven years and spent hunareds of dollars with physicians without receiving any benefit. For two years I lived on milk alone. My stomach would not retain any solid food. I had gas on the stomach and vomited a great deal. I was troubled with dizzy spells and thought I would transport picks up a large number of never live through them. My hands and feet were ice cold and seemed to have no circulation at all. My heart turn to San Francisco. There is an ex-York publishes the following, received through the royal consul of Italy, in San Francisco, something which the Portuguese and Spanish laborers in Hawaii might very well profit by. The Italian consul-general says:

'Many persons have been induced to believe that on account of the Panama Pacific Exposition, which will occur in 1915, there will be labor for everybody. Pale People. A few boxes helped me so much that I could retain a little food on my stomach. Each day I grew stronger and took the pills until com-pletely cured. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the cause of my being a healthy woman today and I gladly recommend them."
